DECA: all you sugar junkies know them well.

Lucky Fred.

Hangin' in B Wing.

Kiss my WHAT?!

No, pigs can FLY? You guys are kidding, right?

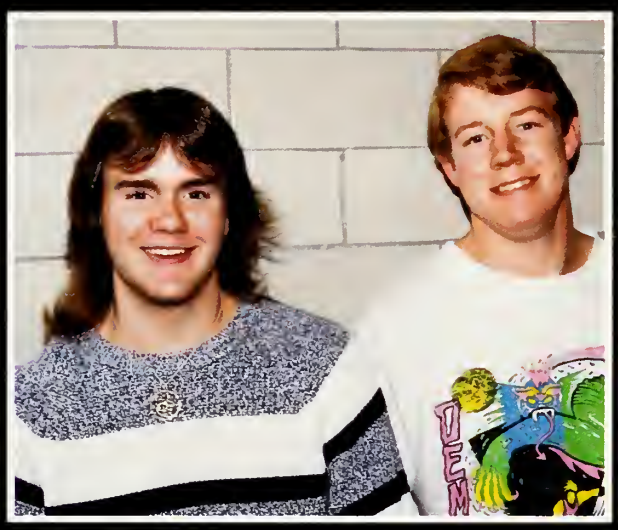
We can only guess.

Aileen, you devil you.

h, kinky.

Brett—who else?

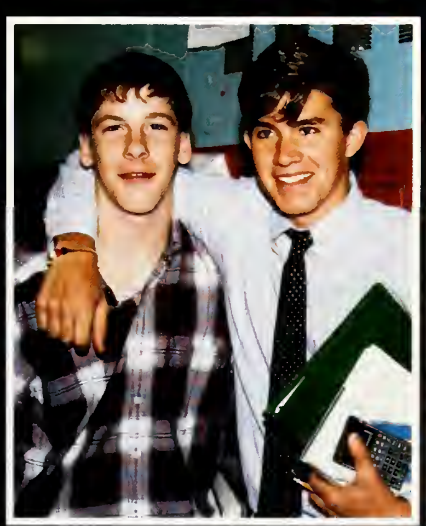
o of the coolest guys we know.



Pete and Larry ham for the cam.

Brian lurks in the background.

A true artiste.



Josh and Jake cuddle by their lockers.

1992 STAFF BILL

If you are reading this, it means that we made it through this year of layouts, photos, layouts, orange pencils, layouts, and those @#*$% croppers! If this book is less than perfect I wouldn't know who to blame, because we gave it our all. A few parting thoughts:

Christie, where is your gun?

Lucky Kristin and Jen didn't end up in that lake. What would anyone have done?

Courtney—TALK TO US!

Hey Bart, does anyone want your job? Jimmy Buffet must die.

Meg and Kris, what do you think of my jiggler bunnies?

Don't even tell me what that means.

Hey Heather, wanna buy a yearbook?

Holly says thanks for the late nights, swollen fingers, and next time, Bart, I'll be home.

Jen H. will forever long for those dreamy meetings at Pizza Hut.

Pardon us, but aren't you on the wrong side of the street? Go figure.

Good luck next year Megan, but you won't need it. A good old Yearbook U. education can get you anywhere.

By the way, thanks to our parental units and Mr. West!

What did you do now, Ed?

Squeeze me, I'm special.

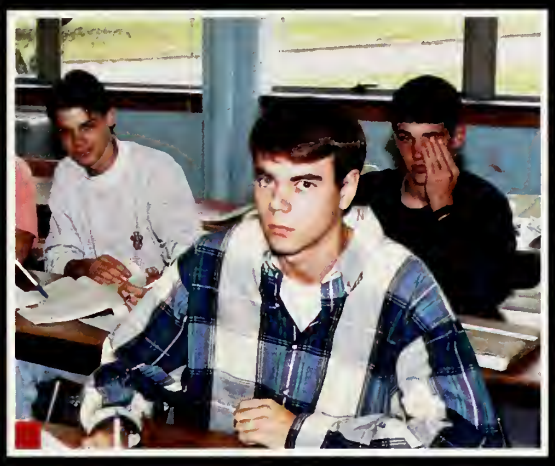
Show me your teeth!

Have no fear, Jack Lima is here.

Jim, you're so cute when you're serious.

Obviously a happy crew.

Whats goin' on, John?



Matt the emotionless wonder.

Justin gets all smiley.

Chad gets real mad.

Bart . . . smiling . . . whoooooaa.

This says it all.

I want to be James Dean.

A proud young lad

Typical.

Sharon goes for the Hail Mary.

Hey pretty thing . . .

d—whats your way?

Hey pal, nice football.

Mr. M and progeny.

Liz gets down to biz.

Buds.

eacher bunnies.

Who says five is a crowd?

HOROSCOPE: As the Earth tilts into your sign, the future looks bright! Use that astral intuition to make all the right choices. Dark strangers may stir up a skeleton in the closet, but you can crush it, baby. Pay attention to the spiritual! A little voice might tell you to give up, but find solice in a soul mate. If you saddle your natural talent, it can take you anywhere. Your inquisitive minds will lead you monkeys far, but be careful where you wander!

INTERVIEW WITH OLGA LANGLOIS
1992 MITOBO DEDICATION

There are 176 students in the senior class. The way we see it, that's 176 reasons to dedicate the yearbook to Olga Langlois. It would be a good trick to get through Masco without her helping out in some way. Everything from assistance with applications to serving as a translator between you and your guidance counselor, she's there. Mrs. Langlois is the spine of the guidance department, and you could question whether or not Masco would function without her.

When did you start working at Masco?

Six years ago, part time 2½ days a week, then next year started working time.

You work just in the Guidance Office? Yes

What's your favorite part?

Probably dealing with the kids, seeing the kids come in, talking to them about colleges, careers, anything else that they like to talk about.

What makes you stay, why do you keep doing it?

Probably, obviously money, but probably the kids, the interaction with th it always changes and the job is very busy so you don't really have time get bored.

How about your new work with the costumes?

I love it. (Hear that, Greg?) No, it's a lot of fun, it gets a little hectic at ti and you'd like to . . . you find you want to keep spending more time doi costumes and sometimes you feel kind of divided about your own home feel that you are very helpful in picking colleges?

ot necessarily because the kids come in and talk to their counselor but, sometimes I give them lists of schools e we have a software package and if they give me general ideas of the kind of school they want or the size chool, I can come up with a list then usually the kids will meet with their counselor and then they go over the the counselor will say yes, this is a safe school for you or this might be a reach. In careers, I just kind of hem towards the books that they might be interested in or give them some information about the careers. But the . . . the real nitty-gritty stuff gets done by the counselor.

bout them? I have three boys and a daughter, the two oldest ones are in college, one is at Bucknell ity the other one is at Notre Dame and I have a freshman here and Gillian is in third grade.

o you like to do when you're not here?

m not here? Okay, I like to read, and I like to sew. I like to go to the movies.

kinds. Whatever my husband and I can agree on, but we liked Cape Fear and I'm trying to think of some of er things we've seen lately. The Hand that Rocks the Cradle I thought was really good.

TRAINING CENTER

The Masconomet Training Center is a very special place which offers a unique academic system for developmentally delayed students. Although this year the number of students was very small, the accomplishments were great. All of the students are very hard-working in their studies. Because of student volunteers who help out during their study halls, the Training Center students are able to interact with other students. This valuable program has contributed a lot to the entire Masconomet community.

Must be a male bonding thing.

Kings of the road.

The 1991 boys' cross country team had its ups and downs under the leadership of Jim Hagan, Mike Smith, and Brian McGinley. The team finished third in the Cape Ann League, giving up two upsetting losses to Hamilton/Wenham and Pentucket. The defeats motivated the team to try even harder to bring home coach Ray Sinnott's first ever state championship. The team came close to fulfilling its goals. It was the first time in over ten years that the entire team qualified for state competition. Coach Sinnott was pleased, to say the least, and looks forward to another great season next year.

The girls' cross country team struggled through the season with strong victories against Hamilton/Wenham, Amesbury, and North Reading. As luck would have it, a long injured list also contributed to a few losses as well. Their star runner, Jen Barry, was injured half way through the season, but undying motivation and strong leadership from captains Amy Hill and Joanna Price kept the team afloat. The Jen Tinney award was won by Megan Lordan. Despite the fact that there were very few veterans on the team, hard work led to a respectable finish. The team extends its hopes to next year's captains Jen Barry and Kristen Holmgren for another successful season.

The boys' soccer team once again had a stellar season. The many tight games included their 2-1 win over Andover and a come from behind victory over North Reading. The team hoarded a slew of awards, as one might guess. All-Leaguers were Ryan Herlihy and Brad Trull, and the All Stars were W.T. Bernard, Palmer Reuther, and Matt Pinkham. The Coaches Award went to W.T. Bernard, and netting the team award was Ryan Herlihy. The season highlights were too many to mention, and all the hard work brought the team together like a family.

What a mean looking bunch of guys.

GIRL'S SOCCER

Ho hum, the sky is blue, the Pope is Catholic, pigs don't fly, and oh yeah, almost forgot, the girls' soccer team had a great season. One could start to take such things for granted. Booty this year came in the form of an Eastern Massachusetts championship and the CAL title. The guidance of Katie DeBruyne and Meredith Wilner, harnessed to the firm eagerness of the underclassmen, was once again a winning combination. All stars were Becky Blaeser, Andi Robinson, Jen Schwefler, and Dana Shwefler. Meredith Wilner and Jen Daly were formidable presences, both being named to the All E. Mass team. Pride is felt throughout the Masco community, and everyone is holding their breath till they're blue in the face to see if the tradition will continue.

A proud varsity squad.

FOOTBALL

And here they are, ladies and gentlemen: the legendary 1991 football team that put Masco back on the map. The season started off with a tremendous bang—a 42-0 victory over Bishop Fenwick. A close loss to Lynfield preceded a four game winning streak of shutouts. Possibly the most exciting moment in Masco football history was the 7-0 win over Hamilton/Wenham. Thwarting the number two ranked team in Massachusetts shows just how far captains Aaron Walsh and Peter Richardson have brought the program. Team award winner Lee Spencer was also a driving force. Through a great coaching staff, hard work, and talented players the football team is back to stay.

FIELD HOCKEY

Although the 1991 fall field hockey season did not surpass the legendary showings of yore, there were luminous highlights. Defeating Triton and bashing them from the coveted first place spot with one fell swoop was by far the climax. Rumor has it that Gia Ventola's birthday/field hockey gathering was quite a bash at that. All stars were Kim Palenscar, Becky White, and Courtney Whelton. Unfortunately, the team's record does not reflect the abounding talent in its ranks. Next year's captains Liz Saita and Hannah Jelley look boldly forward to changing that next year.

Michelle lets one rip.

The varsity volleyball team, led by captains Becky Bateman and Shaune McDermott, put up some excellent fights last fall. Prior to its beginning, the air hung thick with the fear that the season would be a wash-out after star player Allison Block took her All-League talents out west. However, the team rose to the occasion and worked twice as hard. Their superfluous efforts paid off in hard earned wins over rivals Hamilton/Wenham and North Reading. An excellent job was done overcoming the odds when the chips were down, and they can feel proud. Right on!

GOLF TEAM

The fall golf season was reason enough to whip off your Izod visor and celebrate. Their solid record earned them third place in a tight race in the Cape Ann League. CAL champions Ipswich apparently never had the equipment to overcome the Masco team, proudly points out captain Doug MacGregor. The lack of experience couldn't hold back this bunch of merry hackers, with strong showings from coach's award winner Chad Dodd and most improved player Jeff Cahill. The team faced a battering on the morning announcements, only to come back even stronger and more confident in their sport. Congrats, guys.

BOY'S BASKETBALL

Dan goes for the drive!

This year the team attained the second best record in school history. Because Joe Casey is being promoted to Athletic Director, this was his last season as the coach. Everyone wishes him well and hopes he enjoyed his 23 years as varsity coach. The season high point was the victory against Hamilton-Wenham. Throughout the season, each win was big, especially the ones in "the Jungle", the home gymnasium. Thanks to the great amount of support for the team, they remained undefeated at home.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

This year's season was one of extreme highs and lows. The season opened with a heartbreaking loss to North Andover in overtime and a loss to a weak Lincoln-Sudbury team. Once the team had worked through the motion offense, we began to conquer teams we had previously lost to. The high point of the season was the hard fought victory at North Andover. The North Andover game gave us the momentum and confidence needed to carry us through the remainder of the season. Lincoln-Sudbury was the first opponent which was faced in the state tournament. With a crushing victory over Lincoln-Sudbury the team advanced to the next round in states. Overall it was a memorable season. Pasta parties were a mandatory ritual of pre-game preparation and where there was a laugh or two. Thank you, Mr. Murphy and Mr. Canan for making our season a success. We will surely remember the scholarly quotes about the uncommon basketball players.

WRESTLING

This years wrestling team had yet another winning season. They qualified for the state team tournament and also had several individual stars. Zach Rose finished first in the CAL tournament along with John McAnespie, and Sean Horgan finished first in the Wilmington tournament. The team's high point was a victory over North Andover for the first time since 1985. Overall the team did well, with Andrew Kinley, John McANespie, Sean Horgan and Zach Rose having particularly good seasons.

HOCKEY

The hockey team had a great season, almost matching their performance of last year. The varsity team started their first female goalie, Michelle Bernhard, who was a shining success in her first year. Next year's lineup will have to face the loss of lettermen Paul Feldman, Brad Rapson, Brian Vedder, and Dan Leary—but don't count them out. The 1993 teams has no plans to give up.

BOYS INDOOR TRACK

This year saw two new records set by the boys' indoor track team: the standards for the one and two mile relays were reset. Not to mention a 12-0 record and the CAL title, the product of old and new talent in the ranks. Victory was also secured by clutch performances such as the sweep of the one-mile run against Andover. Outstanding performances were made by Shawn Franey, Josh Jamison, Ryan Boden, Todd Johnson, Jim Miller, and the two-mile relay team. If next year's team works as hard as they did this season, they can easily repeat as champions again.

GIRLS INDOOR TRACK

Despite losing many of its top runners, the girls indoor track team proved that they could still keep up with the strongest teams around. Led by new coach Mr. Cavallaro, everyone performed well and the team proved to be a threat to all opposition in the competitive Merimack Valley League. With runners like Jenn Barry, Maureen and Julie Bruno, Sara Lodwick, Amy Sousa, and Andy Robinson, hurdlers Kirsten Johnson and Nancy Longworth, and with the high jump team of Chris Davis, Kristie Parker, and Kristen Holmgren, the team was sure to be strong. Many of the runners qualified for the class C state meet where the team placed fifth. The outlook for next year is positive due to the outstanding showing of so many of the underclassmen.

BOYS' SKI TEAM

The 1992 winter season was reason to celebrate for the boys' ski team: this was the first time that the team made the state tournament. The season's highs and lows were wrapped together in a loss to Haverhill, and later, a three point win over the same team to go on to the glorious state tournament. Masco can also boast of having five skiers in the league's top 25: Matt Gagnon, Lane Murphy, Jason Janike, Rob Holloway, and Joe Gallagher. Good work on the part of the individuals led to the team having one of its finest seasons to date.

GIRL'S SKI TEAM

This year was a great year for the twenty-one girls on the team. We easily managed to go another year undefeated - but this year we didn't have to share the title of co-champs with North Andover; as we have in the past. We were also successful in winning the interscholastic meet despite the course difficulty and a few injuries. Great performances were made by everyone; especially Heather MacLean, Meghan Carey, Aubrey Spath, Gia Ventola, Christie Destribats, and Amanda Jones, who all went on to ski at the state meet in March. As captains, we aimed to unify the team because of all the new members. We hope we managed to make ski team fun for everyone, that is always the first priority! We wish the returning team the best of luck next year and hope that the winning tradition continues. Remember-the key is to have fun! And please, refrain from being too "OUT OF CONTROL!"

UNSUNG HEROES
FALL SEASON 1991

Tara stands alone!

The Fall Unsung Heroes are field hockey. The girls d not have a successf season, record wise but the team had a tremendous amoun of spirit which was definitely shown through the girls' continuous effort in trying to improve th record. The fans seemed to be alwa scarce, but there were always the players' parents wh gave their endless support. The team had a lot of talent and there was neve a question with players giving a hundred percent.

Courtney takes a mighty swing.

WBMT

By now you are familiar with our good old rock of Boxford, 88.3? Well don't get too comfortable, bud, because now they're in stereo. New gear and a new image, as well as the ability to light up that little "stereo" thing on your radio. Watch out.

Brian spins a platter.

MORNING UPDATE

Maybe something useful has come of Channel One after all: now those TV's they gave us can be used for the morning announcements. Under the Leadership of Mr. Deane, the journalism class got it all rolling thanks especially to a handful of dedicated seniors who became obsessed with making it work. Some new equipment and a lot of personality made this latest chapter of Masco history unfold. View it.

GODSPELL

Rookie drama director Greg West made an impressive debut with "Godspell." The cast offered a provocative interpretation of the life and teaching of Jesus Christ. Happily, it dealt with the philosophies of Christianity without becoming bogged down in the fanatacism. Encore.

Clownin' with the big guy.

Being a disciple isn't all walking on water.

THE BOYS NEXT DOOR

"The Boys Next Door", in one word, could be "powerful." Another could be "successful." The drama department's presentation of the lives of the mentally disabled took off, winning them a local prize and moving them on to higher competition. Bravo.

SPECIAL FEATURE: STAGE CREW

When the curtain goes up, these guys are pulling the rope—and a lot more than that. Sets, lights, props, you name it, it wouldn't be there without the stage crew. They have helped to make this year's productions the successes that they have been. Maybe their most valuable asset is being able to hold onto a sense of humor in the midst of the madness.

GOODBYE DR. CARROLL

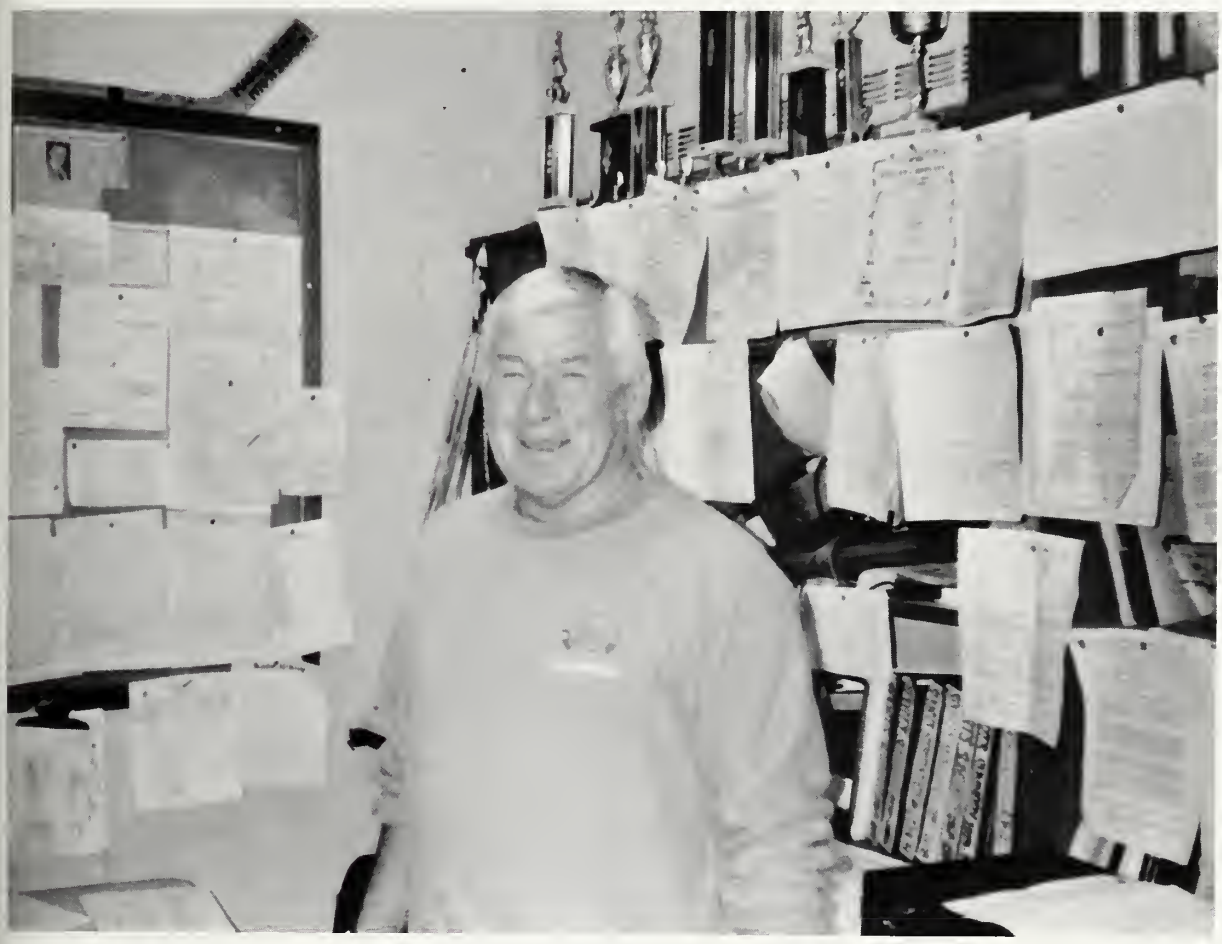
On April 1, Dr. Joseph Carrol officially ended his term as superintendent of Masconomet. Although he will no longer be at the school, his ideas and thoughts about the future will live on.

He says that his overall advice for the continued success of the Masconomet school system is, "to keep doing what we're doing, but do it better." Perhaps Dr. Carroll's greatest accomplishment was his Copernican/Renaissance Program. Even after his retirement, Dr. Carroll will continue work on this program and will tell others about it.

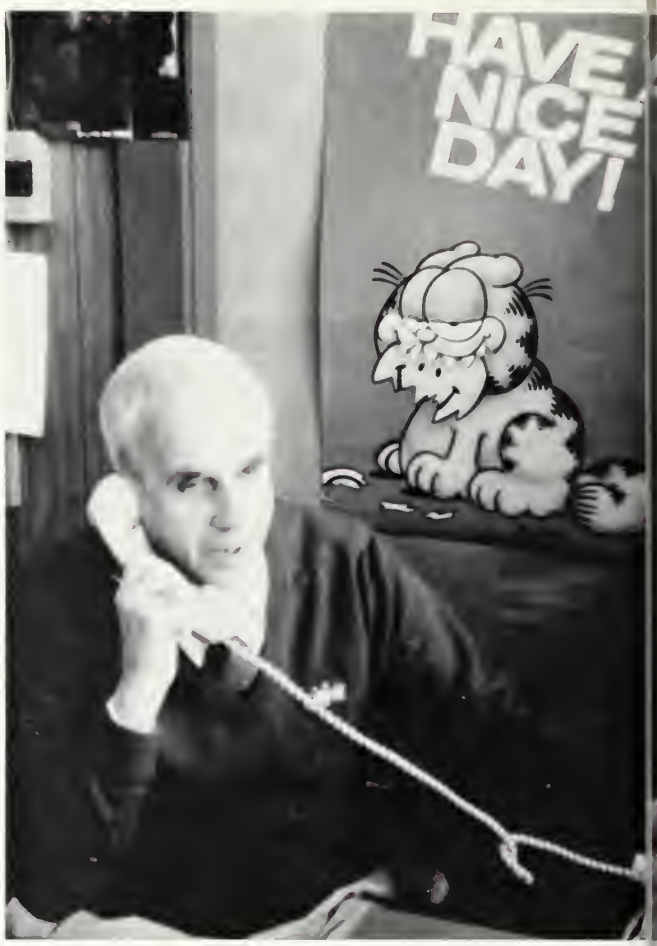
"Overall," Dr. Carroll says, "I am really quite pleased with my years in education and my prospects for the future."

The Masconomet community would like to thank Dr. Carroll for all his years of dedicated service and would like to wish him continued success.

. . . and Mr. Plumley!



This year we have to say goodbye to Mr. Gerold Plumley. He has been here in the Masco athletic department since 1959, and the class of '92 is proud to have him "graduating" with us. Other than being head of the athletic department, here are a few of the jobs that Mr. Plumley has filled around Masconomet: Phys. ed. teacher, and coach of the JH Basketball, JH Football, Freshman Football, Varsity Boys Gymnastics, JV Basketball, Varsity Hockey, and Varsity Boys Track teams. Masco has never had to do without Mr. Plumley in the athletic department armed with a smile and a friendly piece of advice. He will be missed for sure.



Since the early 70's, the halls of Masconomet have resounded with great voice of Mr. Norman Soucy. Anyone who has skipped Algebra or taken On the Road is sure to have met him. Especially if one skipped Algebra. He is such a part of the institution that it is hard to imagine having a Vice Principal who doesn't know everyone's name. It was too bad when he recognized you in the store downtown during lunch, but it's that kind of familiarity that Mr. Soucy brought to Masco, and will probably take with him.
